

Danmarkstur 2025

20. - 29. juni

Del 1

Silkeborg og Odense

fotos: Mogens Christoffersen

Museum Silkeborg
Tollundmanden

Tollundmanden model

densklasse

Skeletter
beretter

Skeletons Tell Tales

Videnskaben og Tollundmanden

The Science of Tollund Man

128

Tollundmanden model

Fra udstillingen

Dragterne i ældre jernalder

Early Iron Age Clothing

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

Early Iron Age Clothing

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

The early iron age clothing was made of wool and linen. The clothing was simple and practical, designed for everyday use. The men wore tunics and cloaks, while the women wore long dresses. The clothing was decorated with simple patterns and colors.

Tollundmanden

Silkeborg Kirke

Odense

H.C. Andersen Comwell Hotel

Odense: Sorte Brødre Torv

Vor Frue Kirke

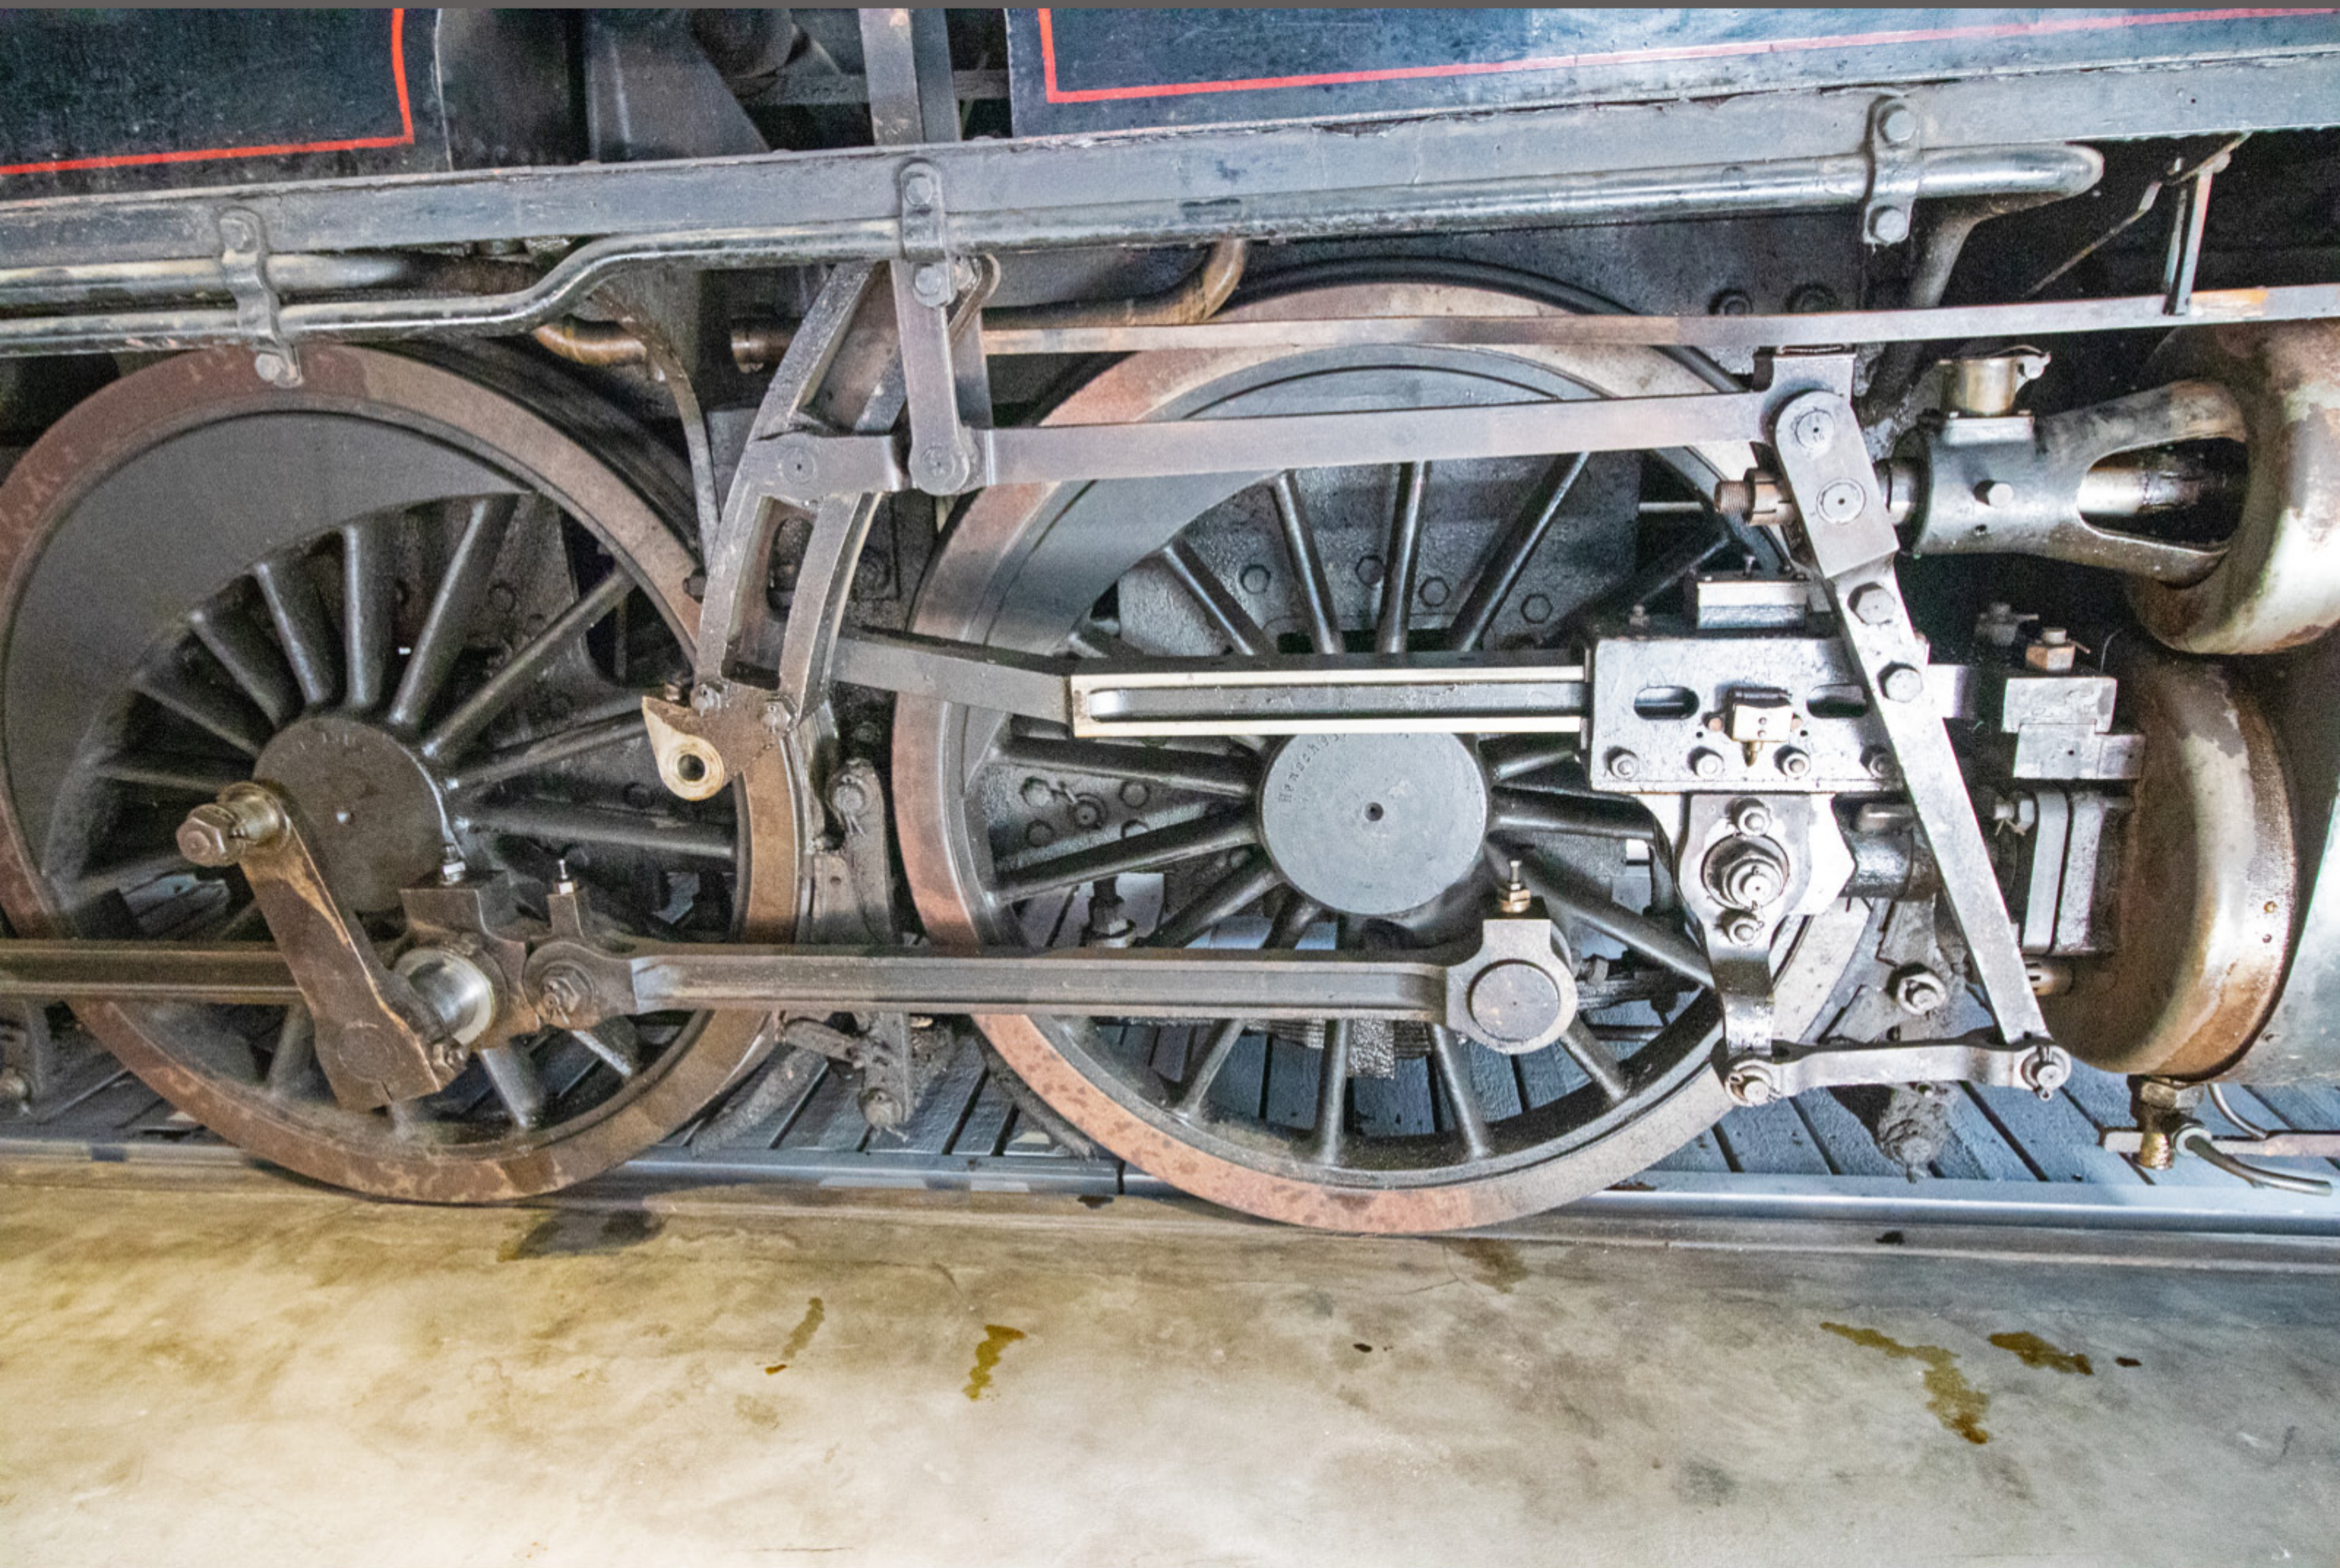

Comwell
H.C. ANDERSEN
ODENSE
DOLCE BY WYNDHAM

Comwell Hotel

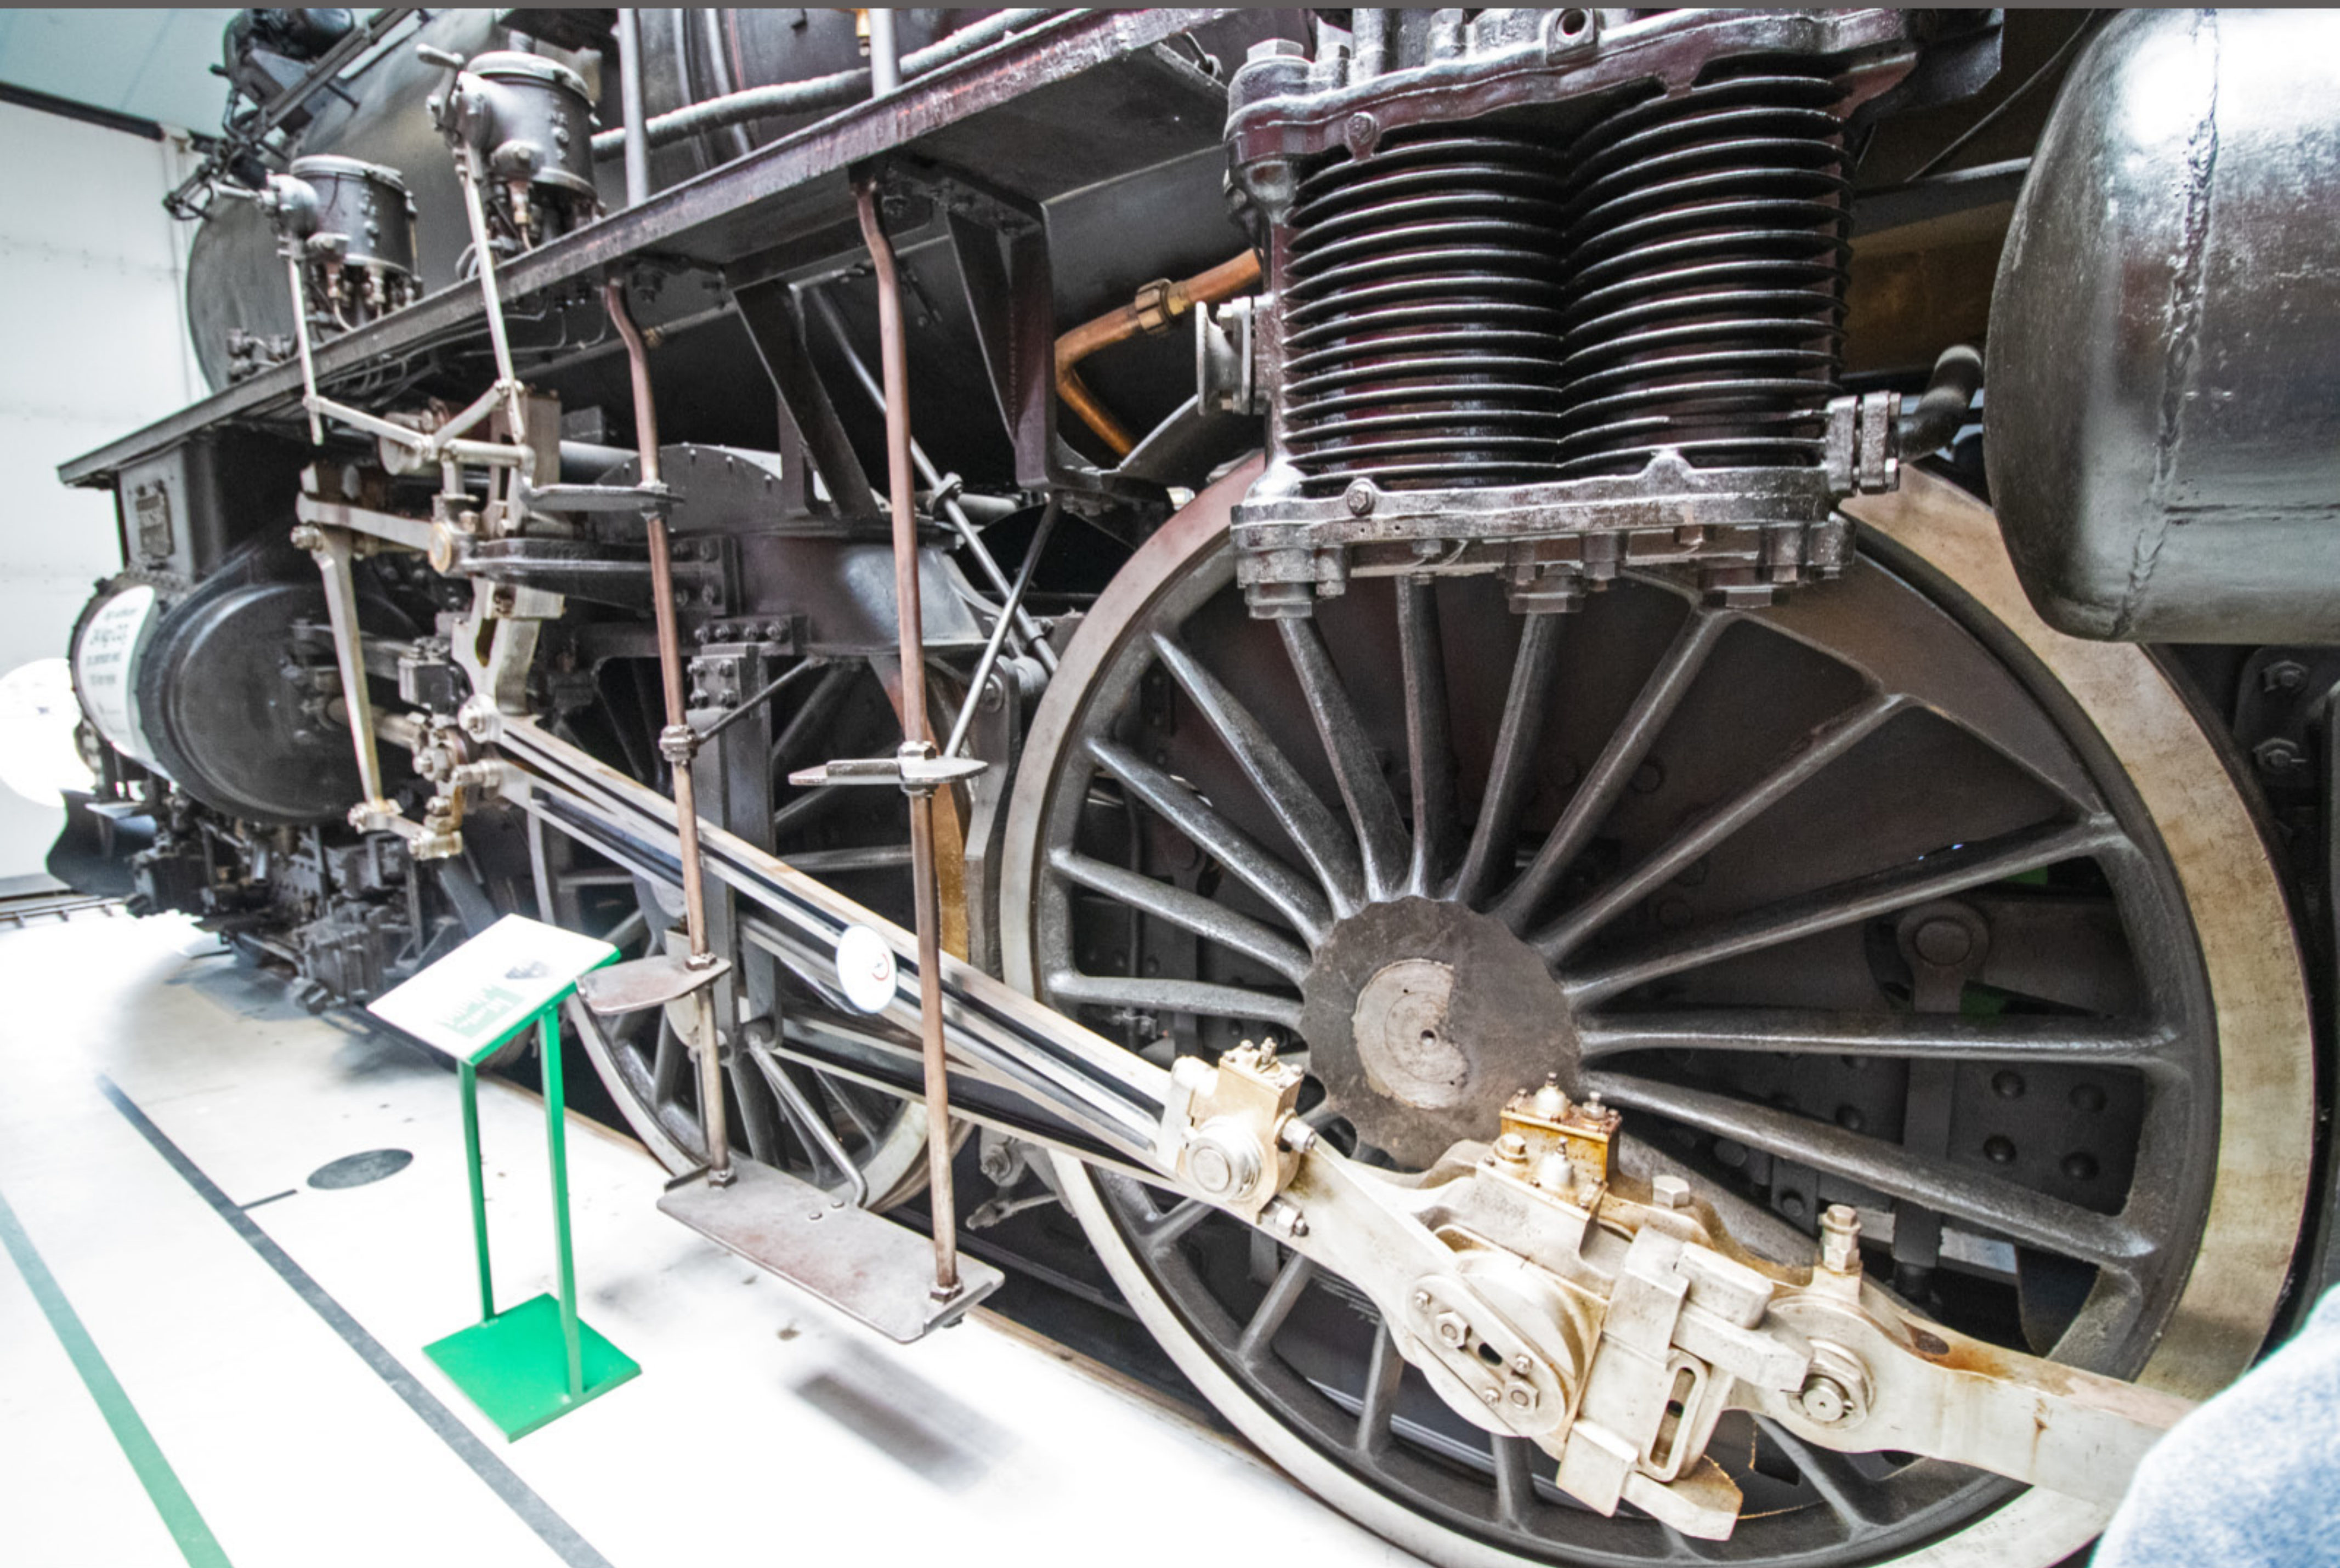

Jernbanemuseet

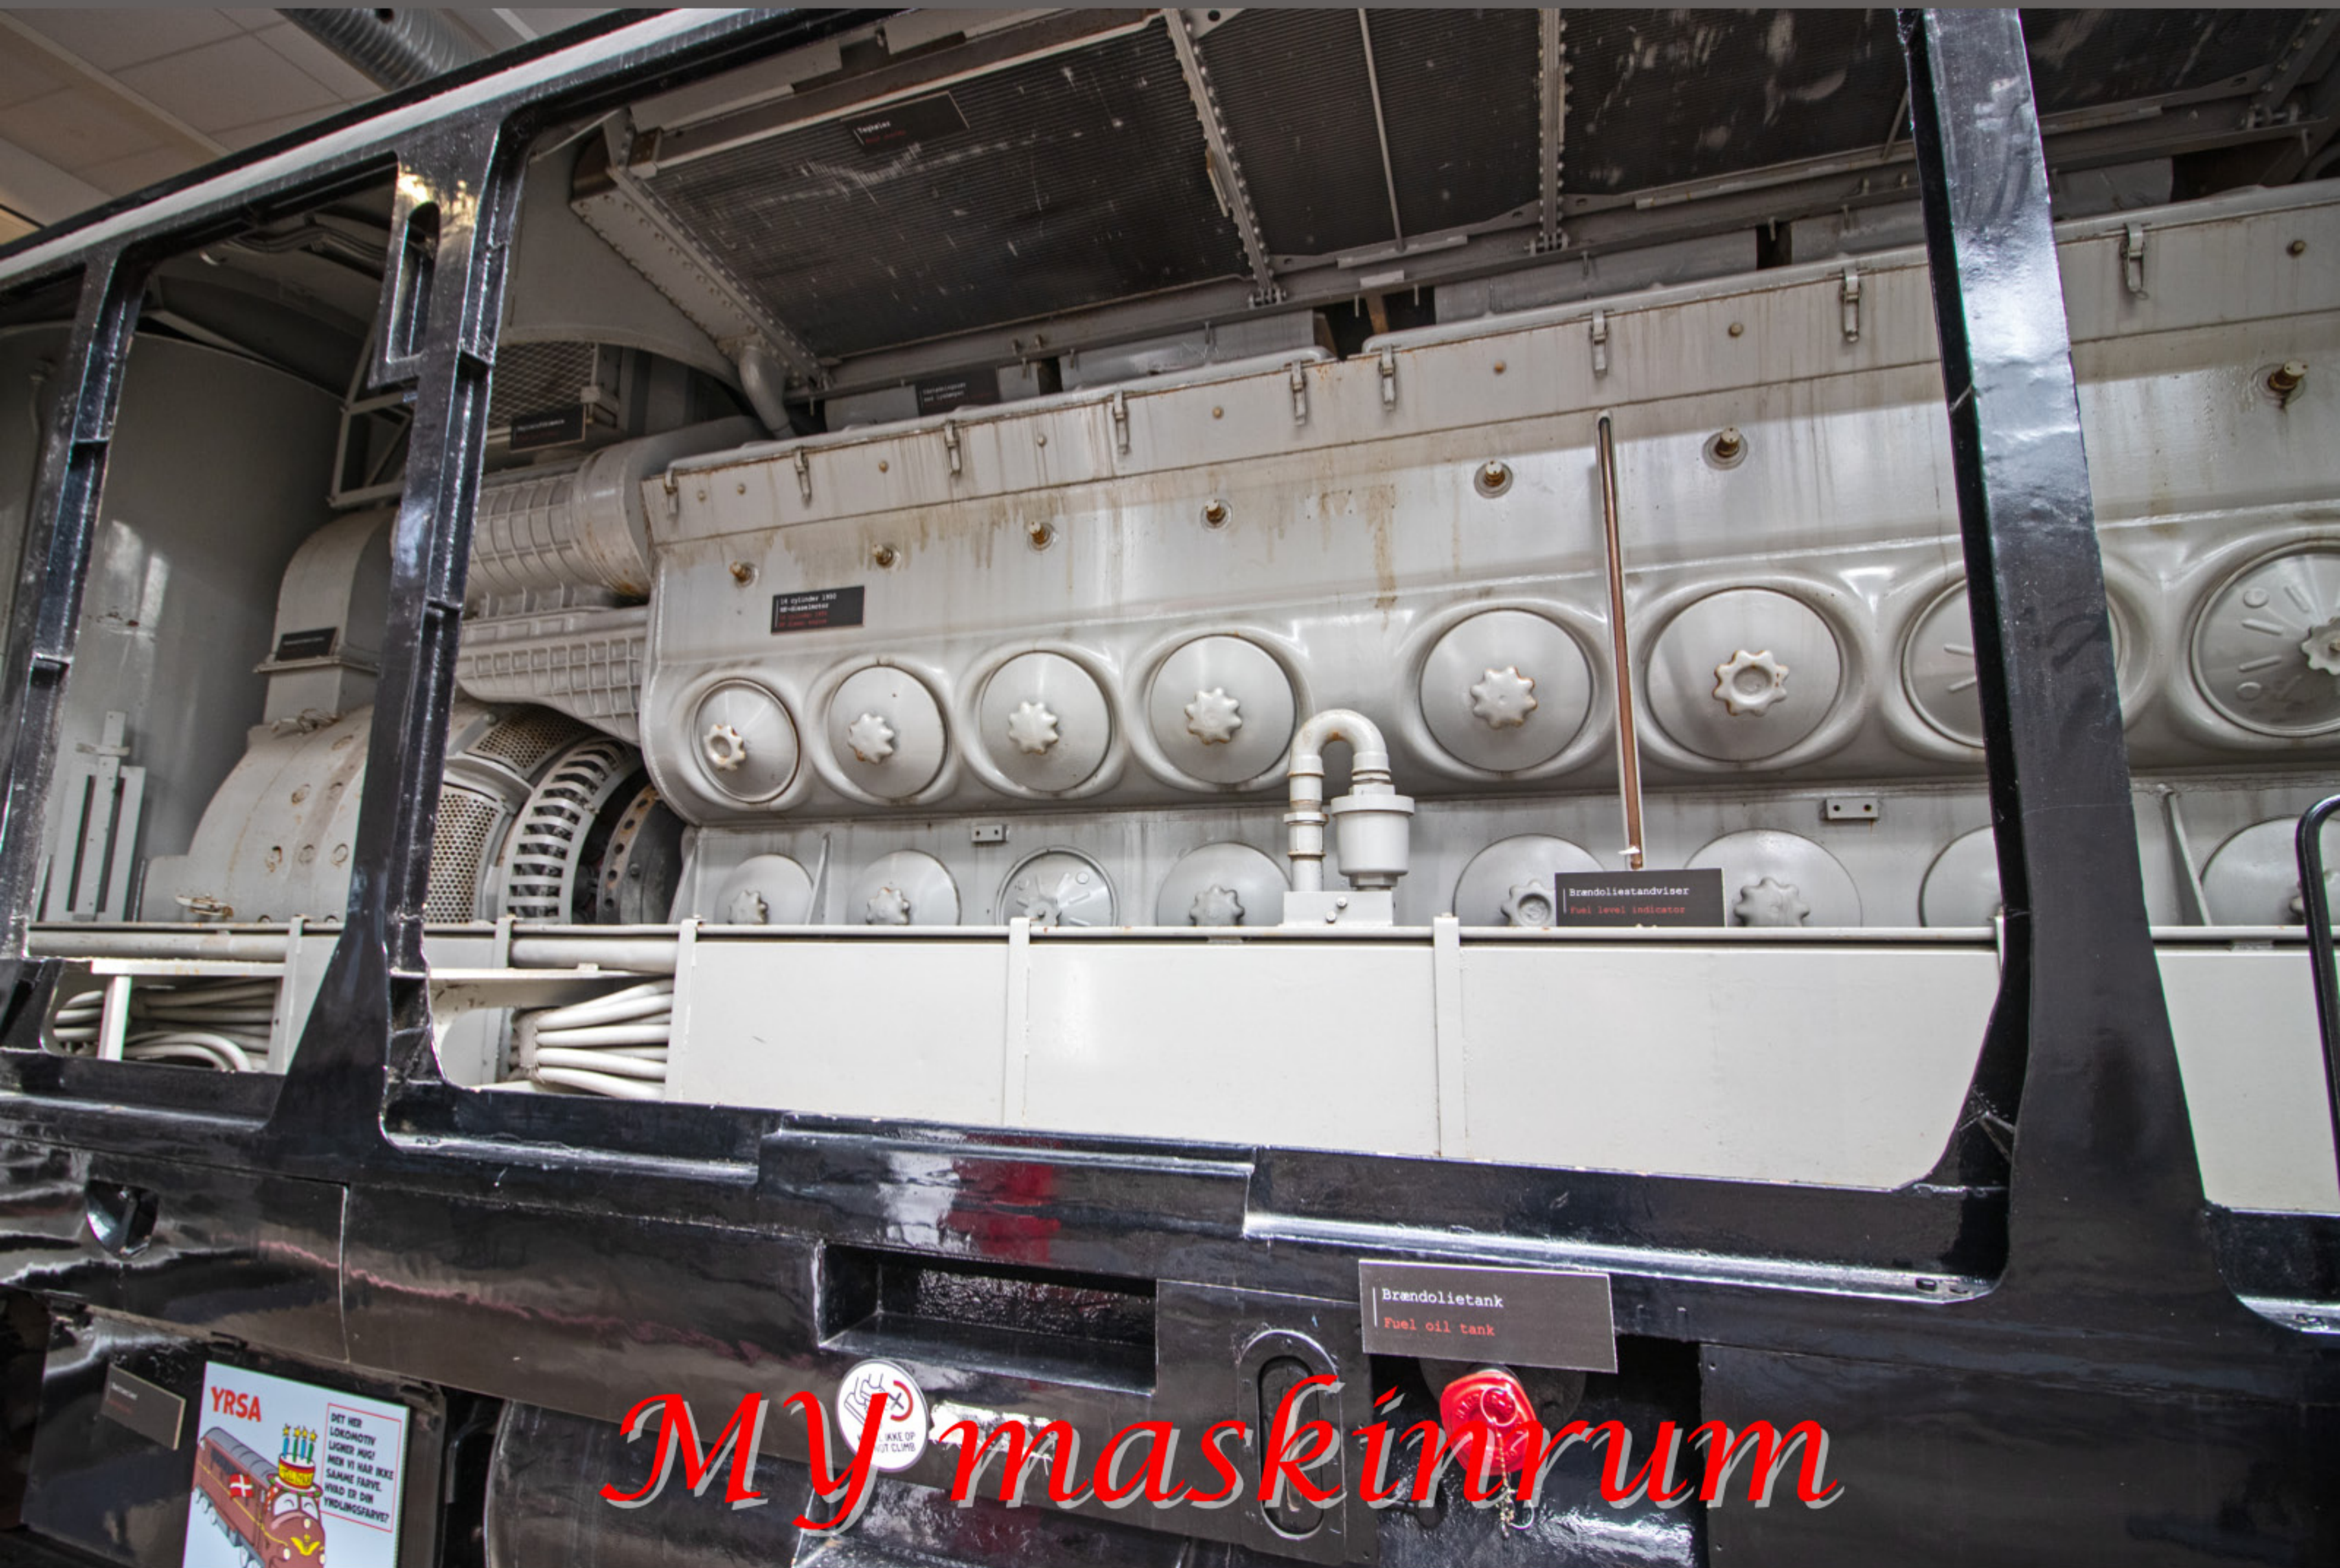

Eksprestog: model R

Lokoførerenes udsigt

My maskinrum

3 ældre herrer

Jørgen

Danmarkstur 2025

20. - 29. juni

Del 1

Slut

fotos: Mogens Christoffersen