A photograph of the Grötlingbo kyrka, a tall stone church tower with a dark roof and a small flag on top. The tower is made of grey stone blocks and has several arched windows. A large green tree is on the left, and a smaller building with a red roof is on the right. The foreground is a green lawn with a small statue and a person walking. The text "Grötlingbo kyrka" is written in red cursive at the bottom.
